Podcasts. Search credible websites for a podcast on a specific health problem in an assigned country. In 300-400 words, describe your thought provoking reaction to the podcast you posted after viewing it. What information did you glean that was not covered in the text or other course resources? What is the impact on the population because of this health problem? Were you aware of this health problem prior to reviewing the podcast? Are health problems such as this addressed by the World Health Organization? The paper should be formatted according to APA including a title page, citations, and a reference page
