The Streisand effect for dummies

About the whole D&C affair

The Streisand effect is the phenomenon whereby an attempt to hide, remove, or censor a piece of information has the unintended consequence of publicizing the information more widely, usually facilitated by the Internet.

“Never interrupt your enemy when he’s making a mistake” or so they say, so what I’m about to do is something I shouldn’t do.

I’m going to because honestly Joe Glass is a blabbering fool and I feel sorry for the guy, and also because I doubt any of them have the capacity of read anything from “The Enemy” and take it at face value.

Okey, lets grab the bull by the horns, I do not like D&C, I disagree with him on almost everything, I think the dude is a blowhard, shitstirrer that knows jack shit about comics.

That said, if indeed Joe Glass (what an apt last name for such a fragile flower), is indeed trying to get him banned from Youtube and Twitter for harassment and said harassment is either false or against someone else, then Joe is even more of a douchebag than I already thought him to be.

And even stupider than his articles would make you believe.

You see Joe (can I call you Joe?), there’s this thing called the Streisand Effect, in the very first paragraph you’ll find it’s definition, you don’t have to believe me, google it (you do know how to use google, right?).

So, by trying to silence him you’re indeed making the same mistake Vader did when he killed Obi-Wan.

Not that you or D&C have the stature or the conviction of your beliefs to be anyone of those characters, to me both are more like Jar Jar Binks (if he doesn't turn out to be the ultimate Sith Lord).

But by merely trying to strike him down you are making him more famous, you are making his audience even bigger, you are making his platform bigger you stupid buffoon!

Just look at me, I dislike the guy about the same as I dislike you, since I believe both are playing to an audience and shitstirring for clicks, views and money.

And you make trouble for everybody else, so I would be very happy if both of you would do us a favor and just STFU!

But, since I’m a true liberal, since I don’t think it’s wise to advocate for the violation of anyone’s individual rights, and not because I’m a saint, but because by doing so I would be advocating for the removal of mine too.

Well I have no other option than to call you out on it if you indeed are the asshole behind it, if not my apologies for thinking you were, the rest I stand behind my words.

So to you and your comrades the SJWs in control of our specialized media and Marvel, please, pretty please, pretty pretty please with a cherry on top, stop trying to De-platform people, you only give them a bigger platform you galactic class morons!

Look at what you make me do! Not only do I have the moral obligation to defend an asshole from other assholes, but you made me swear all over this article.

Where I rant for a while

To my fellow geeks, just in case it wasn't clear from my Issue #10 :

Puritanism is the problem!

Identity politics is the problem!

I don't care if you're the Marxist kind of identitarian or the white identitarian kind or any other that exists.

If you ARE in favor of identity politics I stand against you.

If you want to turn my comics into propaganda pieces badly disguised as comic books, I stand against you.

If you want to infect any other fandom and it's industry with identity politics BS, I stand against you.

If you want to infect any other subculture with identity politics BS, be it skater, punk, etc. I stand against you.

If you are an identitarian I would suggest you to pack your bags and get the hell out of my entertainment, of my fandoms, of my life.

I will still fight you in politics because you identitarians are the worst kind of stinking, steaming pile of shit anyone can ever have the bad luck to cross paths with.

Because you only promote division and hate, in comics we only ever fought about if Superman would beat Goku or not, until you filthy pieces of shit managed to insinuate yourselves in.

I don't hate you because that would imply that I give a damn about your life, but I sure as hell don't like you, I don't want you anywhere near me or my hobbies.

Because you sow discord everywhere you go, because you leave a most foul stench everywhere you go, because you can't never create but destroy.

Because your stench is really hard to get rid of, because you have demonized, bullied, doxed and harassed the most harmless people on the face of the planet.

Geeks, what did we ever do to you or yours? We were happy being the outcasts, we were happy among ourselves talking about our hobbies and living peacefully.

And then you come along with your complaints and demands of inclusion, and, since you pretended to be one of us, we greeted you with open arms.

And for that you stabbed us in the back, you tried and continue to try to ruin our hobbies, you made brother turn against brother.

If I were religious I would have a name for you and a very special place where you would never go cold (unless of course cold is what you hate most).

Yet I'm afraid even the Devil, if he existed, would not want to be anywhere near you.

Sorry for the rant dudes and dudettes.

From México with love, yours truly Eduardo López.

Live long and prosper my fellow geeks!
