MY FANTASY OF LOVE 2

Everyone seeks for Love, but where can you find it?
Journey of love can be futile, for no one can choose who to fall in love with.

Love finds us.
Love takes two to tangle.

I fell in love with this lady whose presence I'm eager to behold.

Her thought kept my mind busy with too many thoughts that seems to bewitched my sense of reasoning,

For truly love can alter the organization of the mind.

She is beautiful even before a fool
Her smile makes me go an extra mile on a journey that's seems futile

Where on earth can I find the right expression of this mystery called love?

Love is not to be forced, but love itself is a force to reckon with when it finds you.

My heart found love in you,
For I am in love with you sincerely,
I always wish that seeing you won't be that barely,
I wish you love me too so squarely because not given me a chance will hurt me so severely,
My heart is already beating for you so clearly.

When will this fantasy comes true?
For I long for the day that I can look into your eyes and tell you how strong love can make the weakest of men be.

For I long for the day that I can hold your hand as we walk down the rail line in a close line.

For I long for the day that I don't really need too much words to tell you how I feel.

For I long for the day that every reason for you to say no will end in futility.

For I long for the day that you will sleep and wake up in my arms.

When will this day come?
The day that I won't have to be nervous about my intention.

The day that I must have conquered
every fears.

The day that my rival will say truly love has found you and me.

The day that you will love me back.

THE END

Thank you for reading
