Sheikh Meshal bin Hamad Al Thani
Ambassador of Qatar to the United States of America
Embassy of the State of Qatar
2555 M Street, NW
Washington, DC 20037

Dear Ambassador Al Thani:

We represent Mr. Elliott Broidy. We write further to Mr. Broidy's letter to you dated March 3, 2017, concerning the hostile attack on his company's computer servers and the theft of his electronic data. The computer hack and related activities have caused Mr. Broidy substantial damages.

We now possess irrefutable forensic evidence tying Qatar to this unlawful attack on, and espionage directed against, a prominent U.S. citizen within the territory of the United States. We have made aware, or are in the process of making aware, relevant U.S. authorities, including U.S. counterintelligence authorities.

The individuals located in Qatar tied to this attack evidently believed they could maintain anonymity by trying to disguise their malicious activity targeting Mr. Broidy's servers. They were wrong. Mr. Broidy's advanced cyber crime forensics unit has established Qatar's ties to this illegal hacking operation.

Your government appears to believe it could maintain plausible deniability by relying on layers of registered and unregistered agents in Washington, DC to target Mr. Broidy and disseminate false and stolen information about him. This too was wrong. We have clear evidence of the role of your agents in Washington in targeting and harming Mr. Broidy. We demand that they and other parties under your government's control cease and desist disseminating stolen property.

Hostile intelligence operations by foreign sovereigns directed against Americans on U.S. soil will not be tolerated. We intend to hold responsible parties accountable for this unlawful activity.

If, as you have suggested, the attack on Mr. Broidy that originated in Qatar was not authorized by your government, then we expect your government to hold accountable the rogue actors in Qatar who have caused Mr. Broidy substantial damages. We reserve all rights and, if we do not hear from you by Thursday, March 22, 2018, will pursue all available legal remedies at a time and in a manner of our choosing.

Sincerely,
