

An amazing idea : canteen restaurants

1st part, Presentation restaurants that sell sandwiches, kebabs, hamburgers , pizza, tacos or anything all sell the same food all the time it is always the same food

It is a bad idea because

No human can eat the same food all the time.

Every human has to keep changing food a better idea is :

to make a restaurant where food keeps changing for example :

week 1 : chicken

week 2 : rice,

week 3 : kebabs,

week 4 : soup,

week 5 : spinach,

and so on

just like a school canteen and your house !

in every school canteen food keeps changing, otherwise it would be unbearable for kids in every house, food keeps changing, otherwise it would be unbearable for people this is a very basic principle of life : food has to keep changing !

2nd part, proof

let's give a proof :

you open a specialized restaurant that sells hot dog,

week 1 : hot-dog / James and Anna come week 2 : hot-dog / James and Anna do NOT come

week 3 : hot-dog / James and Anna do NOT come

James and Anna do not come back, because they have already eaten a hot-dog

Now you close this specialized restaurant and you replace it with a canteen restaurant,

week 1 : hot dog / James and Anna come week 2 : lasagna / James and Anna come week 3 : mashed potatoes / James and Anna come week 4 : soup / James and Anna come week 5 : rice / James and Anna come

and so on

James and Anna come to eat every time, because food keeps changing

The greatness of canteen restaurants is clear and striking !

3rd part, Intelligent selection of food

Clients will have the possibility to choose what food they want next week, on a piece of paper or on the app it will be written " what food do you want next week ? "

☒ waffles ☒ onion rings ☒ hot-dog ☒ beans ☒ mashed potatoes ☒ tomatoes clients will have to put a mark next to the food, for example, 70 % people voted rice, then, next week, there will be rice, canteen restaurants have a social menu customers use the app to vote the menu they want next week a restaurant where menu is influenced from the live input of the customers this is a great, fascinating and innovative concept this will become the new norm

The customers' input makes canteen restaurants even more amazing !

4th part, additional proofs and explanation all restaurants in the world are specialized (static), food never changes

canteen restaurants are the opposite of that, they are non-specialized (dynamic) food keeps changing

just like a school canteen or any house we saw that specialized restaurants are such a bad idea we are going to give additional proofs

these are 3 typical places or city blocks there are some houses and roads place 1

place 2

place 3

there are thousands and thousands of foods in the world every citizen is supposed to have access to them to do that,

there are 2 options

option 1 -> specialization option 2 -> non-specialization (canteen restaurant) specialization is :

" If I want burger, I go to burger restaurant If I want sandwich, I go to sandwich restaurant
If I want pizza, I go to pizzeria "

we keep doing that until we have thousands of foods that means : we have to build 1 000 restaurants in every place

○ = restaurant

place 1

place 2

place 3

do you guys see ?!

here is specialization !

it requires to build 1 000 restaurants in every place do you see how place 1, 2 and 3 look ?

we only put 35 restaurants and the place is so overwhelmed with restaurants this is so sick !

I wish you good luck to build the 965 remaining restaurants, so that people have access to all foods non-specialization is canteen restaurants in a canteen restaurant, food changes every week, thereby, chefs rotate every week

○ = canteen restaurant

place 1

place 2

place 3

week 1 -> pizza (pizza chefs)
week 2 -> turkish food (turkish chefs)
week 3 -> mexican food (mexican chefs) week 4 -> libanese food (libanese chefs)
and so on

week 1 -> libanese food (libanese chefs)
week 2 -> pizza (pizza chefs)
week 3 -> turkish food (turkish chefs)
week 4 -> mexican food (mexican chefs)
and so on

week 1 -> mexican food (mexican chefs)
week 2 -> libanese food (libanese chefs)
week 3 -> pizza (pizza chefs)
week 4 -> turkish food (turkish chefs)
and so on

chefs are rotating

there is an exchange of chefs

do you guys see ?

there are only few canteen restaurants in every place place 1, 2 and 3 are so much better now place 1, 2 and 3 look great people get new foods every week in the end, people have access to thousands of foods this concept is very smart canteen restaurants are amazing

additional proof 2

in villages,

there is one sandwich restaurant or a pizzeria, that's only 2 foods here

there are thousands and thousands of foods in the world people don't have access to all the other foods in the world people are not getting variety what to do ?

● if we do specialization, we have to start a massive construction to equip every village with 1 000 specialized restaurants

● if we do non-specialization, only 1 canteen restaurant will be able to serve thousands of foods across many weeks do you see how sick specialization is ?!

CONCLUSION

we saw and proved very clearly :

restaurants selling same food all the time are such a horrible idea, these restaurants are called specialized restaurants, they are static customers get bored with the food very fast it requires to build so many specialized restaurants in every place canteen restaurants of the opposite of that canteen restaurants are amazing

in canteen restaurants, food changes every week customers do not get bored with the food it requires to build only few canteen restaurants in every place with that, customers use an app to choose the menu of next week this makes things even more amazing a canteen restaurant beats mc donald's, subway, pizzerias , hot-dog restaurants, burger king and so on ...

a canteen restaurant beats them all together and nobody had the idea to make a canteen restaurant yet canteen restaurants are going to be a revolution !
