

Translations, is there anything on the II website that would be particularly good to translate into Greek?

I'm sure there are some. Give me one more day to look carefully and I'll write to you specifically which of them.

Could you also start writing some articles in Greek? With an abstract in English on the topic/reason for writing/why its important etc. so we can keep track and document what's being written:

Yes, of course we can do that.

1. An idea is to provide you by a greek News Letter (in english of course), let's say, twice a month? It can include what has been written/published by mainstream media (about related/ items of interest) but not only (If breaking news comes up we inform you asap (after making some verification phonecalls).

That will be accompanied by "reason for writing/why its important". Estimated cost 1500-2000 Euro (We must try it once and see how it goes).

2. The war of (ecclesiastical) thrones or a geopolitical battle between East and West through the ground of their common religion. We can write it in greek and send you "an abstract in English on the topic/reason for writing/why its important etc."

Would there be any chance you could write an article or two in English about the situations in Greece regarding malign interference? As they happen, the key themes / significant incidents that our network would benefit from?

Yes, we can

1. Sputnik, Newspaper ETHNOS, TV Epsilon: The new landscape in Greek Media
2. On line reaction by the greek audience on topics referring to issues of russian disinformation or affect the Russians in any way.
3. Orthodox Imperial Union of Palestine: Identity and relations with Greece
