Everything you could want or need to know about Colonial Penn Life insurance in one article and one review. We will share you with you information about Colonial Penn Rates, Policies, Video Examples and some little known facts and nuggets of incredibly valuable information.

Colonial Penn has an AM Best A- rating, which puts them in the top 10-20% of insurance companies (for comparison, Mutual of Omaha is A+ rated and is in the top 1%).

Colonial Penn offers a range of final expense life insurance products that combine both simplified underwriting and guarantee issue. Colonial Penn is best suited for shoppers that don't necessarily want or need a large benefit or maybe just enough to cover expenses associated with end of life.

While the costs for Colonial Penn's guaranteed acceptance insurance are similar to those available from other companies, if you're in good health or young it is probably best to shop around and find comparisons before making any decisions. Colonial Penn's term and whole life insurance products don't require a medical exam, do require medical questions and are considered SIMPLIFIED ISSUES. Colonial Penn Policies have an upper limit for death benefit of $50,000, meaning you'll typically pay higher premiums and won't be able to purchase a greater amount of coverage should your financial needs change.
