

A Guide To DOWNLOAD TIKTOK VIDEOS

TikTok users across the world is at 100 million who are responsible for the 600 videos shared everyday. Before TikTok, it was called Musical.ly until August 2018. It's the platform for people who like videos.

A huge part of the appeal is being able to view or come up with a new version of classic videos. Videos only last 15 to 60 seconds. And can deal with many topics, be it hot dances, interesting quotes or wacky lip-sync. Once you complete your own version of humorous video, you can share it to the entire world making use of the application. Applications for video editing are accessible too. You need a video to edit and a good place to start is TikTok. This post can assist you how to download TikTok videos.

Download TikTok Videos Utilizing your Smartphone

Download the TikTok application from your Android mobile phone or iPhone device. Then launch it and make sure to look for the Account button. This is typically found around the bottom right side of the main window. From there you'll see a list of videos on your profile page. Tap the video you want to download. It will quickly play after you tapped it. Tap the Share button you find on the lower right area. There will be choices to pick and for this objective, opt for the Download option. That's how it must be carried out. You need to be seeing your video on your phone's gallery.

Find a TikTok Video Downloader App

There are accessible applications you can come across in Google Play. Select the one you are comfy utilizing and install it. When the application is working properly visit tokdown.com and once again look for the video you wish to download. Once again tap its Share button, but this time make sure to select the Copy Link option. With this link copied we can return to the TikTok video downloader. Open the app and paste the link of your chosen video on it. You will be shown a preview and given the choice to download it as an image or a video. Downloaded video will be accessible right away.

Make use of your Email as a TikTok Video Downloader

You must have found the Email option when you have followed the above strategies once you tap the Share icon. With this choice, you can create your email as a TikTok Video Downloader. Carry out the usual ways until you reach the Share button. Instead of the options you did above, select Email. Complete the To and From boxes. You will then see the video emailed. Beside it as the download option.

With the use of the above methods, downloading TikTok videos is mad easier. No matter which technique you are comfy, downloading the video is not really time-consuming. A couple of minutes of your time will undoubtedly be required.